

AUTO RAMS BILL BOARD; ONE IS DEAD

Chauffeur Takes Dr. G. W. Osborn's Car Without Leave and Picks Up Four Acquaintances For Mad Dash Through Country.

Two of Four Who Survive Are Badly Bruised and Cut—Police Arrest Chauffeur for Taking Car, and Another Youth Driving It.

One man is dead, two others injured, and two of the party of five joy riders are under arrest, following an all night joy ride in a stolen touring car, that terminated with a furious burst of speed down the Newtown turnpike at 3:40 this morning in the wrecking of the car at the foot of Ox Hill, North Main street. The victims are: WILLIAM COSTELLO, aged 20, 359 Davenport street, who was crushed, killed almost instantly. JAMES W. REARDON, 22 Waller place, laceration of forehead, contusion of left eye. Home. GEORGE I. MOSHIER, 240 Fairfield avenue, skull wound, contusion of the brain, shock; St. Vincent's hospital. RAYMOND ELY, 464 Kossuth street, and ARTHUR LUCIUS, 195 Fairfield avenue, escaped injury. They sat in the rear of the car with Reardon.

Racing down Main street at furious speed, awakening neighbors through the countryside by the roar of a speeding engine the car brought up, a crumpled wreck, carried half way through a ragged hole torn in a massive billboard at the foot of the hill. Pieces of timber tearing through the top of the car, the skull of young Costello, and tore the scalp of Moshier, who, sitting at the steering wheel at the left side of the car, was exposed to danger.

Moshier escaped the speed of the car was 30 miles an hour, perhaps more. A. J. Hill, a Bridgeport lawyer living in upper Stepany, saw a car race through the village in the early morning at a speed he estimates at a mile a minute, and other early morning drivers report seeing a car tearing through the country at furious speed.

Moshier is under arrest, at St. Vincent's hospital, charged with manslaughter. Ball has been fixed at $3,000. Lucius is locked up at police headquarters in default of bail of $1,000. He is charged with violating the statute, which prohibits the taking of an automobile without the owner's permission. The car, a new Buick touring car, is owned by Dr. George W. Osborn.

Lucius makes a confession of taking the car without the owner's leave, at Police headquarters today. His story follows: "Dr. Osborn purchased the seven-passenger Buick car about three or four days ago. He hired me in the capacity of chauffeur and I started working for him Monday of this week. Yesterday afternoon the doctor ordered me to drive to Danbury where he was to treat a patient. We returned about 8 o'clock and I was ordered to house the car at Clark's garage at Bull's Head.

"On my way to the garage I came across young Ely, a friend of mine, and he suggested that we take a little ride. I acquiesced and we headed for Fairfield. Upon our return at 7:30 p. m., we stopped at about 11 o'clock on State street where we spent the early evening. About 11:30 we started for the city. On reaching the Blue Ribbon garage I stopped to purchase a ticket for one of the curtains of the car. Here I met Costello and Reardon who are employed there. Moshier was talking with them.

"Someone, I don't know who, suggested we take a ride to Danbury and I drove the machine as far as Norwalk. Here Moshier insisted on driving the machine and we changed places. He drove the machine from Norwalk to Danbury and when started for home by way of the Newtown turnpike. We were going probably 30 miles an hour when the accident occurred. Well, maybe a little faster for that matter. I believe we struck a rut in the road when coming down Ox Hill and Moshier screamed as the machine swerved to the right headed for the large billboard. That is all I know until Driver Burlison placed me under arrest."

All the occupants of the car are young men. Costello and Moshier were in the front seat, on the trip from Danbury to this city. From the investigations of the police nothing has been gathered so far to indicate that any of the men in the party was under the influence of drink.

PRATT & WHITNEY SHOP TIED UP AS 2,500 QUIT JOBS

Big Plant at Hartford Crippled By General Walk-out of All Employees.

NO DISORDERS AS STRIKE IS CALLED

Eight-Hour Day and Better Working Conditions Are Among Demands.

Hartford, Sept. 29.—Machinists and other employees of the Pratt & Whitney Company laid down their tools at 11 o'clock this morning and went on strike for an eight-hour day and better working conditions. William Larkin, business agent for the machinists and other labor men, placed the number of those out at 2,500 and said the walkout was a clean sweep, and the company completely crippled. Immediately after the strike was in motion, B. M. W. Hanson, vice president and general manager of the company, ordered the heads of all departments to report to him as to the number of men out in each department in order to gain definitely just how many men joined the strike.

The walkout was orderly and while the men congregated along Capitol avenue after leaving the shops at 11:30, they had all gone to their homes after being notified there would be a meeting of the strikers this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Park Casino.

Shortly before noon there were scores of men on the streets and Police Sergeant Graft, who was in charge of a special squad of men detailed to be on hand, said he never before saw so many men act so orderly under a similar situation.

There was quite a crowd of spectators outside the factory, waiting for the clock to strike 11. Promptly as the hour rang the men started to file from each building of the company's plant. The only men remaining were the carpenters and plumbers.

The men from one building met the men from the small tool department and they formed in line to march down to Capitol avenue where they were joined by men coming from the main buildings. There, tags bearing a large figure "8" were given them to be placed in their hats, advertising the fact that they were out for an eight hour day and the labor men explained that these were mostly heavily paid machinists engaged in big work but that the small tools end of the plant was practically at a standstill.

Chairman Cosgrove, of the committee, waited until General Manager Hanson yesterday was the first man to leave his department in the shop. "Mr. Hanson has brought this whole trouble upon himself," he said. "We went to him Tuesday and wanted to talk to him and settle the whole affair peacefully and without trouble but he would not listen to us. Leaving our work is not going to do us any immediate good but the company must realize that we are out to mean business."

Mr. Hanson, who was in his office at 11 o'clock and saw the men walking from the gates, made a surprising statement. "No demands were made upon me Tuesday," he said, "and I know nothing of any concessions or changes wanted by employees of the Pratt & Whitney Company. The committee came to me and I refused to talk to Mr. Larkin who is, as I understand, a labor organizer, and is not employed by the Pratt & Whitney Company. Another member was not employed here and I refused to talk to him. The remaining members had been employed here only a few months and two of them seemed to me to be nothing more than kids. I did not know any of them personally and did not know I recognized an employee of the Pratt & Whitney Company of a year's standing. In short, to sum up, I did not consider the committee a representative committee of the Pratt & Whitney employees."

SUES CONNECTICUT CO. FOR DAMAGES; FELL FROM MOVING TROLLEY

Mary Daly of this city has brought suit against the Connecticut Co. for $500 to recover for injuries alleged to have been received when she was thrown from a trolley car at Fairfield avenue and Norman street, August 14 last. She suffered a slight concussion of the brain and also scalp wounds. It is alleged that the car started suddenly before the plaintiff alighted.

SUES ESTATE FOR $500
Sarah Garvey of this city has brought suit through Attorney John H. Garvey, executor, against the estate of Bridget Slattery to collect a claim of $500 alleged to be due for board. It is claimed that the dead woman engaged a room from the plaintiff January 6, 1911 and occupied it for two years. Sarah Garvey says she received no pay although she demanded it several times. The suit is returnable to the common pleas court.

KEEN WORTHY IS LOST IN THE SOUND

Head of Many Real Estate Projects Perishes Presumably From Heart Failure—Was Strong Swimmer and Athlete.

Long Series of Misfortunes For Head of Lordship Development Projects Culminates in Tragedy at Port Jefferson.

KENWORTHY, I. o8a-3 sad(b) John T. Kenworthy, treasurer and general manager of the Wilkenda Land Co., and of the Lordship Park association, died yesterday afternoon when a rowboat in which he was being carried to the Long Island shore capsized in a squall. Kenworthy sank and didn't come to the surface.

His body was recovered this morning by friends, assisted by Port Jefferson waterfront workers, after they had dragged the waters all night and many hours this morning. Kenworthy left the local harbor at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon with a party of five others in his 35-foot power boat, the Altaire. In the party besides himself were George L. Taylor, Harry Faxe, Frank Tickley, E. W. Wilson and Albert McDermott, all employees of the company of which Kenworthy was treasurer. They ran for Port Jefferson and arrived shortly before 6.

Kenworthy and McDermott went ashore for provisions and after supper was eaten the whole party decided to go to the town. With McDermott rowing, two men were taken on each of the first two trips, in a tender, and Kenworthy insisted on going last.

The power boat was anchored 300 feet off shore, in the Port Jefferson harbor, when Kenworthy and McDermott were half way from shore, a squall roughened the surface of the water and the waves caused the boat to ship many seas.

So logged did the tender become that it overturned. Kenworthy, a good swimmer, gave a shriek just as he hit the water. He sank and didn't appear again. McDermott, who couldn't swim a stroke, managed to get hold of the bottom of the boat and cling to it until he was saved.

Their companions on the shore saw the accident and procured boats. They brought McDermott ashore and he told the worse for the experience. Men along the waterfront procured boats and went to the spot where Kenworthy sank. The united party dragged the bottom with grappling irons and dove repeatedly until 3 o'clock this morning, without success. Grappling and diving was resumed at 5 and at 8:40 o'clock the body was recovered by James Johnson of Port Jefferson.

A coroner's physician is making an autopsy this afternoon to discover the cause of Kenworthy's death. His friends have no doubt that he died of a sudden attack of heart trouble. His dispassionate cry when he struck the water is believed to have been caused by that. Even though he was handicapped by a heavy raincoat that he was wearing, it is believed Kenworthy would have saved himself, if he were not attacked by a heart attack or cramps, as he was an excellent swimmer.

The belief that he was stricken with heart trouble, his friends say, is borne out by the fact that he was in a weakened physical condition. He had been in poor health for a month and for the last 10 days preceding his trip yesterday he had been ill in bed. His dispassionate cry when he struck the water two weeks ago. Further, he planned to undergo an operation on his nose tonight or tomorrow.

During the summer, Mr. Kenworthy's father and sister died, and the sorrow brought on him by those occurrences told on his health.

Applicants For Citizenship Are Very Intelligent

Twenty-four applicants were given naturalization papers at this morning's session in the county court-house at which Judge Reed of the superior court presided. Special Examiner Church of Boston questioned the applicants and found them very intelligent. Only four were rejected for further study.

The successful applicants from this city were: Abraham Halperin, 149 Tilden avenue; Stephen Marchini, 485 Jane street; William Gaskill, 583 Bostwick avenue; William Trop, 254 Pembroke street; Vincent Devine, 7311 Stillman street; Patrick Devine, 1010 Railroad avenue; Timothy McCarthy, 135 Austin street; William Koslowski, 297 Harrah avenue.

The hearing was continued this afternoon. ADELPHIAN ROLL CALL WILL BE TAKEN TO-NIGHT. The Adelphian Lodge, No. 80, I. O. O. F., will hold a roll call this evening at its meeting rooms at 1089 Broad street. It is expected that practically all of the 415 members will answer when their names are called. An entertainment and luncheon will conclude the evening.

MINISTER GONE, FLOCK ALLEGES LOSS OF FUNDS

Seek Warrant for Rev. Mr. Garland, Formerly of Southport Church.

MISAPPROPRIATED MONEY OF PARISH

Wealthy Parishioners of Exclusive Georgetown Society Are Startled.

Various persons in Georgetown are today mourning the disappearance of the Rev. John S. Garland, recently installed pastor of the Gilbert Memorial Congregational church and formerly pastor of the Southport M. E. church. The disappearance came as the result of investigation into several financial transactions conducted by the youthful minister, who married last summer after having procured the charge by changing his faith.

A warrant sought yesterday morning in Georgetown, while all eyes from the town were watched in belief to have been the impetus which caused Rev. Garland to take a train bound for Norwalk. Although no persons were waiting at the Norwalk station, he did not alight and a search in the intervening towns is being made today.

The Gilbert Memorial church was completed last winter at a cost of about $40,000. Rev. Mr. Garland was then preaching in Southport. He came to Georgetown as a candidate and his winning mannerisms and fine delivery at once appealed to the congregational body. He was installed although it was later learned that he delivered at once appealed to the congregation as a Congregational minister. This amount $350 borrowed from the custody of the church he later agreed to repay in installments.

In the early part of last summer he married a Miss Barber, daughter of a wealthy New Yorker, living in the Georgetown district and he furnished sumptuously the rectory of the church. It has been discovered that while most of the household furniture was obtained direct from Connery Brothers of Georgetown, some furniture was made especially in New York, to his design. This amounted to $232, which his father-in-law is said to have guaranteed payment upon. It was later learned that a check for the amount had been forwarded by charity disposed of persons through Rev. Mr. Garland, but it never reached its destination. Inquiry into the cashing of this check led to the steps taken yesterday looking toward the arrest of Garland.

It is said that the financial transactions of Garland in Georgetown leading to his disappearance amount to approximately $2,000. His wife is grief stricken at her home. An audit of the accounts of the church have been begun.

Rev. Mr. Garland preached in the Southport Methodist church for more than a year, having come from a London manufacturing company and had been decorated with the Order of the Legion of Honor.

COUNCIL CHOOSES WAKEFIELD LORD MAYOR OF LONDON

Sir Charles Wakefield is head of a London manufacturing company and has been decorated with the Order of the Legion of Honor.

Await Finding of Coroner Phelan in Case of C. C. Bland

Awaiting the finding of Coroner Phelan in the death of Mrs. Bennett, the pretty 31 year old Wilton girl who was killed in an early morning auto mishap at Fairfield and Clinton avenues, last Friday, Judge Frederic A. Bartlett in city court today ordered a continuance until October 5, in the case of Charles C. Bland, a wealthy building contractor of Stamford, who was driving the car at the time of the fatal accident and who is held in the custody of his attorney Hugh J. Lavery, on the charge of manslaughter.

Emma Elin and Benjamin J. Davis, the latter an auto supplies dealer of Stamford, who were passengers in the car at the time, are also held as material witnesses.

Hill Not Delinquent in Filing Statement of Taxable Income

Congressman E. J. Hill was one of those to receive slips on Monday announcing that he had failed to file his income returns. In order to straighten the matter out he called at the local internal revenue department this morning. It was found that a mistake had been made and the Congressman had made his return within the time given for that purpose.

The famous half-way house on Mt. Chocoma, at Chocoma, N. H., was blown from its foundation 4,000 feet down the mountain side by a heavy gale. The building cost $10,000.

ALLIES' ONSLAUGHT IN WEST COSTS GERMAN 120,000 MEN, IS PARIS STATEMENT

SHERIFF IS CONFIDENT OF HAINES' CAPTURE IN NEW YORK STATE

Town of Trumbull Will Move to Have Children of Missing Slayer Placed Under Proper Guardianship—Kindly Neighbor Temporarily Houses Stricken Family.

Clues indicating that Jason S. Haines, the Trumbull farmer who murdered his wife on Monday, is tramping through the country towards Poughkeepsie, led Sheriff Simeon Pease to express confidence, late today that he may be in custody by nightfall. The sheriff's staff of deputies, the town authorities of Trumbull, and the state police, are united in the hunt for Haines.

Coroner Phelan has received a report from Assistant Medical Examiner Fitzgerald of the autopsy performed on Mrs. Haines, the nature of her wounds and the manner of her death. He has hearings scheduled for tomorrow and Friday so it is unlikely that he will set a date for the inquest before Saturday.

An effort to have a conservator appointed over the four Haines children will be made by the selection of Trumbull tomorrow. Some question having arisen as to the legality of the proceedings during the absence of Haines without his death being assured has been disposed of and it is likely that the matter will come before the probate court Thursday.

That young Haines will spare neither money nor effort to have his father defended to the last ditch by legal counsel is assured from the fact that DeForest & Klein of this city have been retained to care for Jason Haines' interests in the event of capture.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral of Mrs. Haines whose body, properly embalmed, is still retained in the city morgue under instruction of the Trumbull authorities. It is expected that the interment permit will be issued tomorrow and with the appointment of a conservator a definite burial place will be decided upon.

The Haines children are being cared for by William E. Waller, owner of the adjoining farm, on that recently occupied by the Haines family. (Continued on Page 8.)

GREAT SPLIT IN CANAAN CASHIER FIFTH DISTRICT GETS FIVE-YEAR G. O. P. VOTERS TERM IN PRISON

Naylor and Blakeslee Co-opts Open Old Sore—Naylor Says He Will Run.

New Haven, Sept. 29.—George Roger, until recently cashier of the Canaan National Bank, was sentenced to five years at the Atlanta prison by Judge E. S. Thomas, in the United States district court today, after a plea of guilty to the charge of embezzlement had been entered. Roger had nothing to say when arraigned. District Attorney Spelacy said to the court that Roger had a wife and six children.

The amount of the embezzlement was about $5,500 and the money had been taken in dribs and drabs to pay living expenses. The court imposed the sentence, which is minimum under the law as it applied to this case. Wilbur H. Webb, of Hartford, who wrote letters to a man named Bragg in Windsor, threatening to expose alleged illegal practice here, offering not to do so for $100, was returned to jail for 10 days, he having already been confined for eight weeks.

Joseph W. Ryan, of New London, who sent a number of fictitious orders to a nursery concern for which he was canvassing and received part of the commissions on the order, was sentenced to six months in Hartford jail. He told the court that he met another canvasser who made out the orders and he forwarded them.

Wong Gong, of Hartford, described as a "bad man," was sent to Atlanta for two years and fined $100 on another count under the Harrison anti-narcotic law. Mr. Spelacy said that the Chinaman not only had sold to his own people but had been supplying others. Judge Thomas recognized the prisoner as a witness in a recent case and remarked that evidently he had not learned a lesson from that case. Donk Kee charged with having a drug in his possession, was fined $50 without costs on each of two counts. Charlie Kee, of New Haven, was sent to jail for four months for violation of the anti-drug law.

In the case of the Arena Center-freeze company, which was before the grand jury yesterday, it is understood that the matter of a settlement will go to Washington. This case is a civil and not a criminal one. It is charged that representatives of the company brought four hockey players here from Canada. The four men came and did not get position alleged to have been promised and finally were stranded here unable to pay their board and the company, or its representatives, refused to pay their fare home. The men sought a lawyer to see if they could get financial assistance through legal action but as nothing could be done the attorney called the case to the attention of Secretary of Labor Wilson who sent an immigration inspector here. Because the men were likely to become a charge they were deported in May, having been here in almost destitute circumstances from February.

The government brought civil suit and it is said that an offer of settlement was made.

More Than Three Army Corps Included in Losses of Killed, Wounded and Prisoners, Says Official Statement.

British Troopship Reported Sunk With All on Board—Both Sides Ready For Serbian-Bulgar Campaign to Start Soon.

Paris, Sept. 29.—German casualties in the recent offensive of the French and British, including killed, wounded and prisoners, were given officially by the French war office today as in excess of the strength of three army corps (more than 120,000 men).

There is no interruption of the fighting in Champagne, says the announcement. Progress of the French in the Artois region, northwestern France, continues.

North of Massiges, the war office says, one thousand Germans surrendered.

IS REPORTED SUNK

Berlin, Sept. 29 (By wireless to Sayville, N. Y.)—The sinking of a British transport with the loss of all but a few members of the crew is reported in a dispatch from Constantinople, to the Overseas News Agency.

BULGARIA AND SERBIA READY FOR CAMPAIGN

Paris, Sept. 29.—The Athens correspondent of the Havas News Agency says it is now expected that Bulgaria will begin an attack on Serbia within fifteen days.

Berlin, Sept. 29.—British and French troops intended for service in Serbia, have been landed at Port Kathrin, near Salonika, Greece, according to reports from Budapest received by the Franfurter Zeitung, to the Overseas News Agency announced today.

London, Sept. 29.—"Three hundred thousand Austrian and German troops have begun an advance on the Serbian frontier, in the direction of Orsova," says the Athens correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company.

Territory Retaken Is Germany's Claim

Berlin, Sept. 29.—Recapture from the British of part of the territory won from the Germans north of Loos was announced today by the war office. French attacks near Souchez and Neuville are said to have been "partly repulsed."

In the Champagne, French attempts to break through the German lines are said to have been unsuccessful.

Kaiser Deposes Two Generals in West

London, Sept. 29.—German newspapers today announce that two German Generals, unnamed, have been dismissed from command in the western war zone in connection with the recent setbacks at the hands of the French and British, according to a despatch from Amsterdam to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

Allies Still Pound German Battle Line

London, Sept. 29.—The British are battering the third line of the Germans in the vicinity of Loos. The French are maintaining their offensive in Champagne. The Germans in the Argonne apparently have been unable to make important gains, and have refrained from infantry attacks. This sums up briefly the situation in the west as seen in London today.

No great change in conditions is shown, but England attaches high importance to indications that the offensive movement of the Allies is not to be relaxed, as was predicted in some quarters. A short breathing spell has been succeeded by the hardest pressure on German positions at points weakened or shattered by the allied rush.

That it is the intention to maintain this pressure is indicated by a telegram from Field Marshal French to the lord mayor of London, thanking him for his message of good will. The British commander added that the message encouraged his troops "to push the immediate success to a really decisive issue." This leads the public to believe that there is to be no stalemate such as followed the battle of Neuve Chapelle, but that, with new British forces in the field and ample supplies of ammunition, Gen. Joffre and Field Marshal French plan a real test whether German resistance in France and Belgium can be broken. Russia, though encouraged by the progress of her allies in the west, has (Continued on Page 5.)
